Dear Parents,

We are thrilled to bring an exciting summer of EXTREME 2022 camps to our campus!

These highly interactive camps are filled with project-based learning, multi-media usage of films and documentaries, hands-on art projects, development of higher-learning skills, discovering creative and dramatic talents as well as participating in game challenges or learning to code.

Our camps have been developed by extraordinary teachers to enrich and expand your child's talents. The individual camp sizes are small for maximum hands-on learning so enroll early as camp spots will sell out quickly!

These camps are open to current and previous students as well as any friends, family and children from our surrounding communities.

We look forward to our first 'EXTREME' Summer with your student!

~BFSMS Teachers

ENROLLMENT INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Choose Your Camp Classes
2. Fill Out Registration Form
3. Return Form & Payment To BFSMS OFFICE To Reserve A Spot (Hurry! Classes Will Fill Quickly)
4. A Camp Packet With Summer Camps' Details Will Be Emailed Prior To June 1st

FINAL DEADLINE is May 20th to reserve camps through the office. After this date, please contact a specific camp teacher to verify if a class is still open and to arrange payment.

SUMMER CAMPS CLASSES

JUNE: 13TH-16TH CAMPS

(MONDAY-THURSDAY)

MORNING: 9:00AM-11:30AM

DISNEY & HISTORY: REALLY!

AGES 9-11

Are the movies Encanto, Moana, Mulan, Aladdin favorites of yours? We'll have loads of fun discovering history in the traditions, songs and foods from each of these movies. We'll virtually travel and research the culture and geography of Colombia, Hawaii, Asia and Middle East.

Set your sails for 'Disney & History: Really!'

WHY AM I LAUGHING SO HARD?

LET'S DISSECT THE COMPONENTS OF COMEDY!

AGES 11-14

Students will investigate the concepts of irony, parody, satire and sarcasm through sitcom film clips, film cartoons, movies, and newspaper cartoons. Students will compare and contrast each component and learn to recognize them in everyday language.

SURVIVAL: EXPEDITION RAINFOREST

AGES 8-11

Can you survive a week in the rainforest? Come with me on an expedition to the Amazon Rainforest. Let's trek to the Amazon River, learn about the animals, investigate the flora and fauna and survive the adventure. We will discover through project-based learning, hands-on activities and my favorite book The Great Kapok Tree!

AFTERNOON 12:30PM-3:00PM

HAMILTON AND THE CONSTITUTION!

AGES 11-14

Wanna sing-along to each Hamilton song (clean version) as we analyze and dissect the songs to learn what they mean by studying Alexander Hamilton and The Constitution?

We'll discover more about our nation's founding fathers while viewing films, taking virtual history tours, participating in a mock trial and an escape room while creating our own rap songs for a final day rap battle!

PLEASE READ ME A GOOD STORY!

LET'S DISCOVER THE GENRES OF OUR FAVORITE STORIES!

AGES 9-11

Students will investigate a variety of genres of literature. Tall tales, fantasy, picture books, fairy tales, fables, legends and more. Students will enjoy listening to stories, reading to others, analyzing themes, characters, and author's purpose, and comparing and contrasting written literature made into film. A relaxed atmosphere will enhance and grow a love for sharing literature.

YOU ARE NEVER ALONE WHEN YOU ARE READING A BOOK!

AGES 7-10

Gather around as we explore the books of the grandest storyteller of them all: Patricia Polacco. Her gift of telling stories and bringing the reader close to her heart will inspire us to learn a little bit of history, culture and how to treat others. We will read picture books, have treats, do activities related to the stories and finish it all off with a fun final project. "All stories are true. The truth is the journey you take from it - did it make you laugh, cry, or seek and want justice? Then it's true." -Patricia Polacco

JUNE: 20TH-23RD CAMPS

(MONDAY-THURSDAY)

MORNING: 9:00AM-11:30AM

HEROES JOURNEY: MYTHOLOGY

AGES 9-11

We will compare the movies 'Thor: Ragnarok' and 'Percy Jackson's Lightning Thief' to the Norse and Greek Mythologies and learn the similarities and differences through various media formats. We'll follow the 'Heroes' Journey' into the ancient study of the gods, Hercules, the ancient tales of The Odyssey, The Trojan Horse, and The Iliad.

READER'S THEATER WORKSHOP: IRONY, PARODY, SATIRE AND SARCASM

AGES 11-14

Reader's theater is an entertaining strategy for developing reading fluency through reading parts in scripts. It blends students' desire to perform with their need for oral reading practice and enhancing comprehension. Students will enjoy performing prepared scripts using comedic concepts of irony, parody, satire, and sarcasm. Then, students will work together to develop a script, practice reading together, and create and gather props, costumes and scenery. They will act as one another's audience and even become each other's role models in improving reading skills.

SURVIVAL: EXPEDITION ANTARCTICA

AGES 8-11

Boy it is cold out there! We are off on an adventure to Antarctica. Let's trek to the bottom of the world and find animals, investigate the flora and fauna and survive the extreme weather. Who explored here first? Does anyone live here? Do you want to learn about all the different kinds of penguins? We will discover all the answers through project-based learning, hands-on activities and watch March of the Penguins along the way.

AFTERNOON 12:30PM-3:00PM

HUNGER GAMES VS FALL OF ANCIENT ROME

AGES 11-14

Prerequisite: Read Novel 'Hunger Games' Prior To Class. Must Bring Novel To Class. Love Dystopian novels? Read multiple times the 'Hunger Games' series? Want to study and compare The Capitol to Ancient Rome?

We'll delve deep into comparisons from the novel between Panem to Ancient Rome's Empire. There will be novel and movie comparisons, government ideologies, food discoveries, digital and hands-on games for class daily competitions...Can you win 'The Summer Games'?

READER'S THEATER WORKSHOP: CHILDREN'S LITERATURE "LIVE!"

AGES 9-11

Reader's theater is an entertaining strategy for developing reading fluency through reading parts in scripts. It blends students' desire to perform with their need for oral reading practice and enhancing comprehension. Students will enjoy performing to prepared scripts using "Fractured Fairytales" and other genres of children's literature. Then, students will work together to develop original scripts, practice reading together, and create and gather props, costumes and scenery. They will act as one another's audience and even become each other's role models in improving reading skills.

STEM-TACULAR

AGES 9-12

Time to build, explore, construct, engineer, and have fun! Each day we will explore a famous person, scientist, or engineer and then get busy completing a project related to their discovery. Have you ever heard of Raye Montague, an engineer of ships? What about ways to reuse plastic bags? Join me as we explore the world of Science!
